Finding The Inner Entrepreneur In You!

COLUMBUS, OH - 5.7 million jobs have been lost since the economic recession began December of 2007. (USDOL, online) Summer and sunshine remind us that despite the highs and lows of the economic currents, your future belongs to YOU. If you are unsettled, now is the time to consider starting your own home-based business.

Go outside your comfort zone and "Discover the Inner Entrepreneur™" in You. We all have a passion, so turn that passion into a business in which you control - not someone else.

Jewish Families Services, S.U.C.C.E.S.S Program and Like Minded Moms are teaming up with Barb Girson, owner/founder MySalesTactics™ to bring to the community a guide to help them be self sufficient and build confidence.

With the support of these two organizations and the guidance of Barb Girson, participants can only succeed:

- 1) Jewish Family Services, a nationally accredited mental health, workforce, and social service agency that has been helping individuals and families, in both the Jewish and general community, face life's challenges for nearly 100 years (2008)
- 2) Like Minded Moms, a networking group that strives to help their members grow their business beyond beliefs

When Barb Girson was downsized one year ago from her last corporate position, she participated in the SUCCESS PROGRAM, which helps downsized workers find gainful employment. This program offered tremendous support during her transition, and the current economic environment caused her to get creative.

She decided that she would take charge of her career and help others do the same. No longer will her fate be determined by a board room decision.

Teaming up with organizations like, Like Minded Moms, and entrepreneur, Renee Belbeck, and the Jewish Family Services has been one way to extend her reach and quickly establish her business.

10% of course proceeds are contributed to Jewish Family Services.

My Sales Tactics, a professional skill development, training and consulting firm is offering a 4 week program that will help you explore various options available to start a home-based business, evaluate what skills you have that might be marketable, determine how to set up your office, and identify what resources you will need. At the end, you will be able to make an informed choice and have in hand an outline of what you need to do next, if in fact being an entrepreneur is for you!

Barb Girson will be holding a free preview conference call on June 25 at 1 PM.
